

Department of Bengali

Programme Specific Outcome

PO 1. Bengali is our mother language. Learning Bengali as a subject would enhance the Bengali culture. It helps the students to learn about their Bengali language culture deeply.

PO 2. This course also includes the history of Bengali language. After learning this course students would know the origin and evolution of Bengali language.

PO 3. Through this course the students would learn about ancient Bengali Literature which is based on poetry. They also learn about modern Bengali literature which includes novels, poetry, short stories and drama.

PO 4. After completion of this course, students would develop their verbal and writing skills.

PO 5. The course includes Bengali grammars, thus it would help students to use grammatically correct Bengali language.

PO 6. It enhances the writing power of the students by analysis of the various styles of poetry and prose.

PO 7. This course contains various proses, poetries, and dramas of various centuries. It would help students to grow awareness about political, economical and social scenarios.

PO 8. Reading various texts and scriptures help students to increase their ability to analyze human behavior and human nature.

PO 9. It helps to change society's prejudices about religion, caste, gender, region and thus it helps to address gender discrimination, asterism etc.

PO 10. This course would aware the students about linguistic and cultural diversity within the Bengali language and its various dialects.

PO 11. This course would help students to develop a broad view of world literature through the exploration of Bengali literary works and their connections to global literary traditions.

PO 12. This course would help to develop ethics and values in the students.