

Programme Outcome
Economics (General/Minor)

Key program outcomes include:

- Basic economic knowledge, including key theories and models, and their relevance to individual and organizational decision-making.
- Analytical and critical thinking abilities to assess economic issues, evaluate policies, and apply concepts to real-life problems.
- Enhanced communication skills, particularly in presenting economic ideas effectively.
- Interdisciplinary readiness, enabling students to connect economics with other academic fields.
- Career preparation, offering a strong base for roles in business, public policy, international relations, and for competitive exams in banking and finance.