2.3.1 - Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

The teaching learning environment of the college is student centric and faculties used student centric methods regularly. The teachers enlighten the students about the prescribed syllabus and give them wider perspective about the subject through a series of lectures. In the classes where the students are of diverse learning abilities, lectures are delivered with the aim that average student can be able to absorb the concept.

Experiential learning is an engaged learning process in which the students learn by doing things and by reflecting on the experience. It includes laboratory experiments, field-works and projects. When implemented properly, experiential learning stimulates academic enquiry and promotes cultural awareness, career development, leadership and intellectual skills. Participative learning makes the students involved in the learning process. It rouses the students' sense of responsibility about the organisation, management and evaluation of their educational experiences. In this method the teacher can be innovative in assigning tasks in different forms to the learners. Problem-solving method is a system in which complex real-life problems are used as the vehicle to promote students' learning of concepts and principles as opposed to direct presentation of facts and concepts.

Under the CBCS system and NEP based credit system which the college is pursuing at present at UG and CBCS based system PG levels, there is provision for internal evaluation in the syllabus itself that is displayed in the university and college websites. The evaluation process is an important part of the college and the annual prospectus of the College which is being circulated to the stakeholders especially students and faculties of the College. At the beginning of the academic session, Departmental Heads and faculty members inform the students of each programme about question pattern, chapter or topic-wise distribution of marks in the classroom. Time-to-time notifications about evaluation processes issued by Principal are being circulated to the classrooms and displayed in the College notice board. The evaluation mode varies in accordance with the subjects and papers and in compliance with the directives of the Board of studies. These are always intimated to the students repeatedly.

The departments with a small number of students conduct more tests. Results are declared within a week from the end of the exam. Compiled marks are displayed and communicated to the students. Ledger of evaluation is prepared and kept for the students to know their progress. Some departments arrange students' parents and teachers to meet in which their performance is discussed. The college conducts tutorial, home assignment, tests, presentations, group discussion, etc. to assess the performance of students. The institution evaluates the attainment of program outcomes through different means. The modalities of direct assessment include written test, project works, field works, internship, performance and presentation.

Project Works: While doing project works students find them different from traditional tests, since these are more realistic and challenging. Here the students demonstrate their skills in facing real-life challenges. They have the opportunity of learning while working.

Written test: Written test or home assignment tests the students' progress in course-embedded matters chiefly related to the curriculum. It is program-specific and linked to the goals set in the syllabus.

Performance in academic activities: A learner has to perform a number of academic activities. The Central Library of our institution named Rishi Bankim Library uses KOHA system software as ILMS or Integrated Library Management System which we installed (version 3.1.1) for the purpose of library automation in the year 2014. It is an open-source library management software. Now our Central Library Management System is controlled through Koha on Cloud server system. In main menu there includes thirteen modules to support library management. Access to Central Library at URL: <https://www.rbcec.in/library.php>

With the help of KOHA our library provides OPAC through LAN and WebOPAC services via Internet to its clients. Users can access Web-OPAC through login the URL : <https://rbcec-opac.kohacloud.in/>. We also provide bibliographical services on a specific subject or author with the help of KOHA software. Entries of our book database named 'rbc' prepared through KOHA which follow the MARC21 bibliographic International Standard format and also make Barcoding of Books. During data entry we try to use Z39.50 International Standard protocol for information retrieval for copy cataloguing facility when available. GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

6.1 - Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 - The governance of the institution is reflective of and in tune with the vision and mission of the institution

The governance of the college is run by the Governing Body (GB) which keeps in mind the vision and mission of the institution in making the policies and in implementing the same. The vision of the institution is to disseminate higher education to the vast multitude of students coming out of the schools of the adjoining areas spread over the districts of North 24 Parganas, Nadia and Hooghly in West Bengal..

The College management makes wide publicity regarding admission through its website; display of posters and festoons and notifications so that students and their guardians residing in North 24 Parganas and the neighboring districts get the information properly. It is the vision of the college to make the young folk capable of sustaining themselves economically and meaningfully thereby contributing to the broad economic and social development. Graduates of this college are eligible to take up the competitive examinations for different jobs like teaching, banking, railways, government services, private sectors etc. They may also go for higher studies and research.

It is the mission of the college to ensure innovations in teaching learning, research and community service activity. The college management encourages innovation in teaching-learning, research activities and extension programs. During the last tenyears, a good number of teachers obtained Ph. D.

6.1.2 - The effective leadership is visible in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management.

The Governing Body (GB) takes the administrative decisions. Whenrequired, the G.B. seeks the views and opinions of the Teachers' Council, the cells and subcommittees that are there in theinstitution. However, the decisions are implemented through a method of decentralization. The Principal is the Executive toissue orders on the basis of G.B. resolutions they are carried out by the college office and the concerned nonteaching staff. If theorder is related to the faculties, the teachers carry it out. There are a good number of subcommittees to take decisions andaction on relevant matters. If required, the subcommittees forward proposals for the approval of the Governing Body. However, thedayto-day administration is run by the Principal who is also the D.D.O. of the institution.

The IQAC works to cultivate quality enhancement awareness amongall these units and wings of the college and guides them as far aspossible towards the direction of quality improvement. Regardingthe internal evaluation, the principal, on behalf of the GoverningBody, issues notices for students and staff. Accordingly theTeachers' council and Academic Council hold meetings to chalk outthe modalities of evaluation as per the curriculum prescribed bythe university. Teaching and non-teaching staff implement theprogram. This is an instance of decentralization and participativemanagement.

6.2 - Strategy Development and Deployment

6.2.1 - The institutional Strategic/ perspective plan is effectively deployed

It was a strategic plan of the college management to hold parents' meeting several times in each academic year. The intention was to improve the relationship among the students, teachers and parents. Accordingly, the college organized joint meetings of the faculties, students and parents during the last few academic years. In those meetings, Principal, IQAC Coordinator and HODs of all departments of our college explained before the students and guardians the importance of regular attendance and internal evaluation. They also made them aware of the academic facilities available in the college - the library and its Page browsing centre with Wi-Fi coverage, the computer lab, gymnasium, the smart classroom, the e-resources, the NCC unit and the NSS unit. They informed guardians and students of the various committees and cells that deal with different issues students may face.

The most important of such bodies are Students' Grievance Redressal Cell (SGRC), Internal Complaint committee (ICC), Anti-ragging Cell, Committee on Anti-sexual Harassment (CASH) and Students' Welfare Sub-committee, SC/ST/OBC Minority Cell. The guardians made queries regarding class routine, curriculum and attendance. All their queries were answered satisfactorily by the Principal and faculties. The students, too, had many of their doubts cleared in those meetings. Thus the strategic plan of holding Guardians' meetings was implemented successfully.

He is also the Head of the academic affairs in our college. He is the ex officio Chairperson of all the Council, Cell and Sub-committees unless something else is categorically mentioned. 6.5 - Internal Quality Assurance System

6.5.1 - Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) has contributed significantly for institutionalizing the quality assurance strategies and processes

The IQAC of this college has contributed significantly for institutionalizing the quality assurance strategies and processes. Described below are two practices that have been institutionalized as a result of IQAC initiatives. Mentoring: The IQAC in its plan of action decided that mentoring should be regularly done in the institution for the benefit of the learners. The IQAC in its meeting with the teaching faculties emphasised the importance of mentoring. All the teachers of the college get involved in the process of mentoring. For the purpose of mentoring, departmental teachers distribute the students among themselves. A mentor takes care of all the mentees under him or her so as to provide them career counselling support, to provide them personal counselling, to support them for any kind of difficulty in curriculum, to make provision of remedial coaching and to always support them as and when needed. Students Satisfaction Survey: Students Satisfaction Survey (SSS) is a vital practice that the IQAC has been able to institutionalise. For this purpose, students are provided a link in the college website on entering which they get the Student Satisfactory Survey (SSS) form containing some prescribed MCQ questions and an open ended question related to evaluation.

1.3 - Curriculum Enrichment

1.3.1 - Institution integrates crosscutting issues relevant to Professional Ethics, Gender, Human Values, Environment and Sustainability into the Curriculum

This college being a modern institution is committed to the main purpose of the curriculum which is the holistic development of the learners. It would be pertinent to highlight those parts of the UG and PG syllabus or institutional activities that contribute to sensitizing the students to cross-cutting issues relevant to the current pressing concerns nationally and internationally such as gender, environment and sustainability, human values and professional ethics, development of creative and divergent competencies. In the English Department syllabus, there are such Core Courses as Women's Writing, Partition Literature, Creative Writing, English Language Teaching, Environmental studies etc. Women's Writing represents the voice of the women authors claiming gender equity and social provisions in favor of women's rights. Partition Literature focuses on the trauma of Diaspora and sensitizes the students to the dilemma of its victims. The paper Individual and Society aims at instilling among the learners human values that make them understand the evils of discrimination in the name of caste, class, gender and race. 'Environment Studies' rouses among the students an awareness regarding the interdependent relationship between Man and the Natural Environment around him.

2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organizes special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners

Initially, college identified slow and advanced learner on the basis of the marks scored by the student at his/her internalexamination and also on the basis on personal interaction with students about their area of interest, interviewing, question answer session, the quiz on general knowledge etc. The academic performance in the previous academic year is a good indicator to identify the slow and advanced learners. The Departmental Head of various departments maintains separate register for each class with details such as marks obtained in the previous examination and subjects opted for the course. The heads of the concerned department prepare list of the slow and advanced learners to bridge up the knowledge gap of the enrolled students.

As per guideline of IQAC, Coordinator the following subjects have been recommended for the remedial coaching at entry level of the under graduate degree course as slow and advanced learners: (1) to raise the confidence level of the student regarding difficult subjects and other problems, (2) to improve the basic subject knowledge of the slow learners, (3) to improve the performance in the internal and university examinations, (4) to reduce the drop out of slow learners, (5) to motivate to use of central library for various subject books and other library materials regularly, and (6) conducting class test, tutorials and home assignments.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

The teaching learning environment of the college is student centric and faculties used student centric methods regularly. The teachers enlighten the students about the prescribed syllabus and give them wider perspective about the subject through a series of lectures. In the classes where the students are of diverse learning abilities, lectures are delivered with the aim that average student can be able to absorb the concept.

Experiential learning is an engaged learning process in which the students learn by doing things and by reflecting on the experience. It includes laboratory experiments, field-works and projects. When implemented properly, experiential learning stimulates academic enquiry and promotes cultural awareness, career development, leadership and intellectual skills. Participative learning makes the students involved in the learning process. It rouses the students' sense of responsibility about the organisation, management and evaluation of their educational experiences. In this method the teacher can be innovative in assigning tasks in different forms to the learners. Problem-solving method is a system in which complex real-life problems are used as the vehicle to promote students' learning of concepts and principles as opposed to direct presentation of facts and concepts.

The evaluation mode varies in accordance with the subjects and papers and in compliance with the directives of the Board of studies. These are always intimated to the students repeatedly.

The departments with a small number of students conduct more tests. Results are declared within a week from the end of the exam. Compiled marks are displayed and communicated to the students. Ledger of evaluation is prepared and kept for the students to know their progress. Some departments arrange students' parents and teachers to meet in which their performance is discussed. 2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

The institution evaluates the attainment of program outcomes through different means. The modalities of direct assessment include written test, project works, field works, internship, performance and presentation.

Project Works: While doing project works students find them different from traditional tests, since these are more realistic and challenging. Here the students demonstrate their skills in facing real-life challenges. They have the opportunity of learning while working.

Written test: Written test or home assignment tests the students' progress in course-embedded matters chiefly related to the curriculum. It is program-specific and linked to the goals set in the syllabus.

Performance in academic activities: A learner has to perform a number of academic activities. Besides attending classes regularly in offline modes a student has to put his or her problems successfully to his or her teacher in the interactive sessions. The academic discipline that he or she observes in such interactions is undoubtedly a parameter of academic learning that helps him or her to become a good and responsible citizen in future. He or she is further assessed in playing her role in such programs as seminar or webinar, quiz, group discussions, debates, sports and other extension activities.

4.2 - Library as a Learning Resource

4.2.1 - Library is automated using Integrated Library Management System (ILMS)

The Central Library of our institution named Rishi Bankim Library uses KOHA system software as ILMS or Integrated Library Management System which we installed (version 3.1.1) for the purpose of library automation in the year 2014. It is an open-source library management software. Now our Central Library Management System is controlled through Koha on Cloud server system. In main menu there includes thirteen modules to support library management. Access to Central Library at URL:

<https://www.rbcec.in/library.php>

With the help of KOHA our library provides OPAC through LAN and Web OPAC services via Internet to its clients. Users can access Web-OPAC through login the URL : <https://rbcec-opac.kohacloud.in/>. We also provide bibliographical services on a specific subject or author with the help of KOHA software. Entries of our book database named 'rbc' prepared through KOHA which follow the MARC21 bibliographic International Standard format and also make Barcoding of Books. During data entry we try to use Z39.50 International Standard protocol for information retrieval for copy cataloguing facility when available. With the help of KOHA we produce Digital Library Cards of the users and prepare a valid Patrons' database or membership database. Through circulation module we made issue-return of books using barcode scanner against digital library card and in case of overdue, fine has automatically calculated. At the end of session issue the library clearance to the students after checking membership database using Barcode scanner and update database.

GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

6.1 - Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 - The governance of the institution is reflective of and in tune with the vision and mission of the institution

The governance of the college is run by the Governing Body (GB) which keeps in mind the vision and mission of the institution in making the policies and in implementing the same. The vision of the institution is to disseminate higher education to the vast multitude of students coming out of the schools of the adjoining areas spread over the districts of North 24 Parganas, Nadia and Hooghly in West Bengal..

The College management makes wide publicity regarding admission through its website; display of posters and festoons and notifications so that students and their guardians residing in North 24 Parganas and the neighboring districts get the information properly. It is the vision of the college to make the young folk capable of sustaining themselves economically and meaningfully thereby contributing to the broad economic and social development. Graduates of this college are eligible to take up the competitive examinations for different jobs like teaching, banking, railways, government services, private sectors etc. They may also go for higher studies and research.

It is the mission of the college to ensure innovations in teaching learning, research and community service activity. The college management encourages innovation in teaching-learning, research activities and extension programs. During the last ten years, a good number of teachers obtained Ph. D.

6.1.2 - The effective leadership is visible in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management.

The Governing Body (GB) takes the administrative decisions. When required, the G.B. seeks the views and opinions of the Teachers' Council, the cells and subcommittees that are there in the institution. However, the decisions are implemented through a method of decentralization. The Principal is the Executive to issue orders on the basis of G.B. resolutions they are carried out by the college office and the concerned non-teaching staff. If the order is related to the faculties, the teachers carry it out. There are a good number of subcommittees to take decisions and action on relevant matters. If required, the subcommittees forward proposals for the approval of the Governing Body. However, the day-to-day administration is run by the Principal who is also the D.D.O. of the institution.

The IQAC works to cultivate quality enhancement awareness among all these units and wings of the college and guides them as far as possible towards the direction of quality improvement. Regarding the internal evaluation, the principal, on behalf of the Governing Body, issues notices for students and staff. Accordingly the Teachers' council and Academic Council hold meetings to chalk out the modalities of evaluation as per the curriculum prescribed by the university. Teaching and non-teaching staff implement the program. This is an instance of decentralization and participative management.

6.2 - Strategy Development and Deployment

6.2.1 - The institutional Strategic/ perspective plan is effectively deployed

It was a strategic plan of the college management to hold parents' meeting several times in each academic year. The intention was to improve the relationship among the students, teachers and parents. Accordingly, the college organized joint meetings of the faculties, students and parents during the last few academic years. In those meetings, Principal, IQAC Coordinator and HODs of all departments of our college explained before the students and guardians the importance of regular attendance and internal evaluation. They also made them aware of the academic facilities available in the college - the library and its Page browsing centre with Wi-Fi coverage, the computer lab, gymnasium, the smart classroom, the e-resources, the NCC unit and the NSS unit. They informed guardians and students of the various committees and cells that deal with different issues students may face.

The most important of such bodies are Students' Grievance Redressal Cell (SGRC), Internal Complaint committee (ICC), Anti-ragging Cell, Committee on Anti-sexual Harassment (CASH) and Students' Welfare Sub-committee, SC/ST/OBC Minority Cell. The guardians made queries regarding class routine, curriculum and attendance. All their queries were answered satisfactorily by the Principal and faculties. The students, too, had many of their doubts cleared in those meetings. Thus the strategic plan of holding Guardians' meetings was implemented successfully.

6.5 - Internal Quality Assurance System

6.5.1 - Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) has contributed significantly for institutionalizing the quality assurance strategies and processes

The IQAC of this college has contributed significantly for institutionalizing the quality assurance strategies and processes. Described below are two practices that have been institutionalized as a result of IQAC initiatives. Mentoring: The IQAC in its plan of action decided that mentoring should be regularly done in the institution for the benefit of the learners. The IQAC in its meeting with the teaching faculties emphasised the importance of mentoring. All the teachers of the college get involved in the process of mentoring. A mentor takes care of all the mentees under him or her so as to provide them career counselling support, to provide them personal counselling, to support them for any kind of difficulty in curriculum, to make provision of remedial coaching and to always support them as and when needed. Students Satisfaction Survey: Students Satisfaction Survey (SSS) is a vital practice that the IQAC has been able to institutionalise. For this purpose, students are provided a link in the college website on entering which they get the Student Satisfactory Survey (SSS) form containing some prescribed MCQ questions and an open ended question related to evaluation.
